November Luncheon Presentation
Ephriam D. Dickson III
Curator, Fort Douglas Military Museum
November 6, 2012, Tuesday, 12:15 pm

The Fort Douglas Military Museum was registered by the Center for Military History as an official museum of the U.S. Army Museum System on August 8, 1974 with the date of establishment being 10 August 1974. The commander of Fort Douglas had initiated the request on 29 January 1974.

The Museum received certification from the Center of Military History on November 3, 1986. As a result of the Fort turn-over to the University of Utah in late 1988, the Museum came under the sponsorship of the Utah National Guard, where it remains today.

In 2000, a complete review was made of the facilities and exhibits and it was determined that a major renovation and expansion was needed. As a result, a $6 million plan was developed. As of this date, an additional 6,000 square feet for a new main gallery and collection storage space has been built and the existing electrical and HVAC systems have been replaced in the historical buildings.

The mission of the Fort Douglas Military Museum is to:
PRESERVE and interpret the history of Fort Douglas
EDUCATE visitors about the role of the military in the growth and development of Utah, and HONOR all Utahns who have served their country in uniform.

Through exhibits, educational programming and publications, the Museum seeks to engage and inform the public about Utah's rich military heritage.

Emeriti Doings

Floyd O’Neil, director emeritus of the American West Center was recognized in the Fall 2012 Marriott Library Newsletter. The newsletter called him a “steadfast advocate” of the Special Collection “through his tireless outreach, philanthropy, research and vision.” The full story is available online at http://www.lib.utah.edu/pdf/Marriott%20Newsletter%20Fall%20FINAL%208%209%2012.pdf

J. Boyer Jarvis, Communication, received the YWCA’s Honorary Outstanding Achievement Award on September 21, 2012. Boyer is the first male recipient of the award in its 24 year history. He was commended, “for his work for social justice, higher education, and community causes of Utah.”

Bonnie Winterton, Music, is home recovering from a hip operation. We wish her well and miss her piano playing as a prelude to our luncheons.

Welcome More New Emeriti Club Members

We have received confirmation of five emeriti who received appointments in July. The total of new emeriti for 2012/13 now stands at 34.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC HOLIDAY CONCERT

The School of Music has graciously offered $1 vouchers to Emeriti members for the Orchestra and Choirs Holiday Concert on Friday and Saturday, December 7 & 8, at Libby Gardner Concert Hall (LGCH) 7:30 pm. The combined University of Utah Choirs, Orchestra and Crimson Harps will kick off the season's festivities with a much anticipated Holiday Concert. The program will feature the newly established University of Utah Chamber Choir and the A Cappella Choir directed by Barlow Bradford, with the Women's Chorus directed by Jessica Napoles. The showcase of choirs will be accompanied by the Utah Philharmonia conducted by Robert Baldwin.

These promise to be sold out concerts but club members may obtain vouchers in advance through the club for $1 each, with a limit of two per member. The vouchers may be redeemed at the LGCH box office one hour before the concert or anytime at regular box office hours at Kingsbury Hall. Each voucher may be redeemed for one general admission ticket without any further processing fees. With processing fees, general admission tickets cost $10, so members receive a substantial savings. Depending on the interest in this new voucher program, other School of Music concerts including the Virtuoso Series, may become available to our emeriti Club members. Please send the coupon in this newsletter to our secretary, Jeanne Robson, well in advance so the vouchers may be mailed to you in plenty of time for you to redeem them. Remember all tickets are first come first served, so redeeming your voucher early ensures you a seat. Should the tickets be sold out when you redeem your voucher, the voucher may be used for any other school of music event throughout the year. For any questions, please contact Henry Wolking at henry.wolking@music.utah.edu

A Christmas Carol: The Musical

The spectacular new musical version of a holiday classic

By the eight-time Oscar-winning composer of Disney's Beauty and the Beast and The Little Mermaid, this singing-and-dancing musical version of Dickens’ Christmas classic provides a wonderfully fresh look at the story of Ebenezer Scrooge and the ghostly visits he receives one Christmas Eve. Originally produced at Madison Square Garden in New York City, this new musical of a beloved Christmas tale is sure to provide a festive evening of entertainment for the whole family.

Mail and Electronic Versions of the Newsletter

Recently, I received a call from an emeriti member, Evelyn, thanking me for sending a mailed copy of the Newsletter to her and worrying we would make everyone receive it electronically. We will continue to mail copies of the Newsletter to most people but do encourage those of you comfortable with electronic communication to join the growing numbers who receive the Newsletter by email. Email has a several of advantages over the mailed version: it comes in color, is larger type in the PDF format, sometimes offer notes that are too recent for the newsletter, and arrives within a day of its completion. Moreover, the electronic version is essentially cost free; the mailed version has material, printing, and postage costs which the Emeriti Club must absorb (plus snail mail and printing takes up to 10 days to complete). Contact Bill Ohlsen at flyfisher1i8@yahoo.com to receive our newsletter electronically.

Dues for the Emeriti Club

If you have not yet paid dues, please be aware that the dues are voluntary but very helpful to the emeriti mission of keeping you informed and providing opportunities for activities and community. The fee of $10 for a person or $20 for a couple may be sent on the luncheon reservation form whether or not you attend the luncheon.
